

14. A method as defined in claim 13,

characterized in that said data sets contain information on the case history, medication, anesthesia, course of the operation, clinical parameters, and/or after-care data.

15. A collection of human tissue specimens, containing isolated biological specimens which have been processed by the method defined in any one of claims 1 through 14.